FOREWORD

The late W. W. C. Wilson of Montreal, who formed the splendid collection of Canadian and American coins and medals described in this catalogue, was one of the most discriminating and enthusiastic collectors of recent years. Mr. Wilson's first and most natural interest was in the coins and tokens relating to his native Canada and it may be safely said that no such assemblage of numismatic material pertaining to that country has ever before been offered for sale. He bought many collections belonging to Canadian amateurs of his time, perhaps the most important being that of the late Thomas Wilson. It is not possible in the brief space allowed in an auction catalogue to enlarge upon the historical significance most of these coins and medals have, however present day Canadian collectors will no doubt be appreciative of the opportunity to acquire rarities seldom offered.

Nor did Mr. Wilson neglect the coins and medals issued in the United States and in the early Colonial days, as many of the rarest items in the collection are much sought for examples of numismatic Americana.

The series of Indian Peace Medals, presented by French and English kings and the Presidents of the United States, is one of the most important ever held in a private collection. Few of these have survived and they have an historic interest, of a personal nature, representing the efforts of the early colonists and the later pioneers in the West to placate the natives of a new country.

WAYTE RAYMOND.

THE
BOUQUET-SOUS

BY
EUGENE G. COURTEAU, M.D.

ST-JACQUES, QUE.

CANADA

INTRODUCTION

There is no country without its history, nay rather a history replete with events worthy of remembrance.

In taking up the description of the tokens that form the subject of this monograph I bring to the mind of our readers an event cherished by all Canadians as well as one interesting to those who desire to trace up the evolution of a nation.

The first two pieces described were evidently struck for one of the banks in Montreal—most likely the City Bank—the dies of which, as well as those of the “Rebellion token” were undoubtedly sunk by Joseph Arnault, a French engraver, at that time working in Montreal.

Numbers 18 to 70, both inclusive, are generally known as the “Patriotes’ Sous.”

Notwithstanding the loyalty displayed by the French Canadians in the war of 1812, it was the practise of the Governors, from Craig to Aylmer, to treat them as a subject race by excluding them from all public offices, which offices were monopolized by the English speaking citizens.

Thus there came to be a division of the French speaking citizens into two factions. The “Bureaucrates”, who sided with the government and the “Patriotes”, whose aim was to regain the liberties accorded them by the Treaty of Paris.

In 1837 at a large meeting of Patriots, known as “L’Assemblée des six Comtés,” held at St. Charles, resolutions were adopted by which the Members of the Association bound themselves not to buy any goods produced or manufactured in Great Britain; thus confining themselves to Canadian goods and produce.

Even British coins and currency were rejected and tokens conformable with their own monetary system were ordered to be coined mainly in the United States.

This is the reason why the famous sous came to be issued, and how their name originated.

The other sous were issued by financial institutions or by private firms.

These numerous varieties of the Bouquet-Sous, in many instances, differ only in minor points while in others they are simply the product of the crossing of dies. Several are very rare, if not unique.

A convenient way of classifying them is by the number of leaves in the wreath, grouping all with 40, 32 and lesser number of leaves under separate heads; then by noting the number of shamrocks in the bouquet and their relative position also whether the ends of the ribbon binding the bouquet extend to the right or left or in both directions and, if there be a bow, to give the direction in which it inclines.

I would strongly advise young collectors to acquire the habit of arranging their varieties by the descriptions rather than by the illustrations, otherwise they are likely to lose the power of arrangement from descriptions and much of the benefit and pleasure to be derived from collecting.

To facilitate this classification I have detailed only such leaves and flowers as are necessary for distinguishing the different varieties.

The plates will be most useful in helping collectors to quickly locate under their proper numbers any varieties that may come into their hands, as also to experts when cataloguing a collection for auction. Celerity in such cases being indeed a necessity.

The frequency with which the words "to right" and "to left" occur in the description has suggested their abbreviation by the letters r. and l. respectively. I also considered it more convenient to give the number of leaves and flowers in figures rather than in words, although it is not considered good form.

I had considerable difficulty in finding out all the different varieties of these tokens and have described and illustrated only such as I have seen or have learned on undoubted authority to be in actual existence.

In describing the bouquets I do not pretend that the list is absolutely complete; the study of our tokens is too extensive for one to believe that new varieties may not come to light at some future day.

I cannot close without referring to Mr. R. W. McLachlan, of Montreal, who has helped me in many ways, and who has at all times generously placed his cabinet at my disposal.

THE BOUQUET-SOUS

No. 1.

Obv. Bouquet made up of 3 ears of wheat at the top, one thistle, one rose and a spray of small leaves on either side; the ribbon binding the stems without bow, TRADE & AGRICULTURE * LOWER CANADA *.

No. 3.

Obv. Similar to No. 1, but without stars or points dividing TRADE & AGRICULTURE and LOWER CANADA. The stem of lower rosebud on l. is heavy, almost straight and overlaps the upper shamrock, that of the upper bud is attached below the centre; the bud to r. has a long straight stem, the ribbon has bow to l. with one end on either side.

Rev. UN SOUS within a wreath, above, BANK OF MONTREAL, below TOKEN. Laurel branch of 21 leaves, the central leaf of a group opposite NK in BANK has a short slender stem; the first palm leaf under the letter s is forked with the left much shorter than the right. R. 2.

Straight Stem Variety.

The more salient points of difference in the "Un Sous" varieties described under numbers 3 to 13 are found in the stems of the rose buds and in the relative positions of the laurel leaves opposite BANK.

No. 4.

Obv. The stem of the lower l. rosebud is long and much curved; that of the upper bud is joined at the centre; the r. bud has a long, slender stem curved somewhat upwards; the ribbon and bow as in last.

Rev. The stem of centre leaf opposite NK is wanting and the palm branch lighter with the two parts of its inside leaf long and equal. R. 4.

Curved Stem Variety.

No. 5.

Obv. Stem of lower l. bud starts from upper shamrock and slightly bends near its junction with the bud, the upper one has no stem; that of r. bud is short and starts from a small leaf; bow to l. with ends of ribbon on either side.

Rev. Closely resembles No. 3, but stem of centre leaf opposite NK is long and heavy. R. 2.

It occurs in different sized flans.

Bent Stem Variety.

No. 6.

Obv. The stems of all the rosebuds are short and very slight while that of the r. thistle is wanting; the petals of the r. rose are single, whereas they are double on the preceding varieties, this rose has no stem; double bow to l. with two ribbons extending to either side.

Rev. Differing from the others, the laurel branch having 20 leaves and a small stem near the berry pointing to N in BANK, two of the laurel leaves opposite NK have no stems. The letters are heavier. R. 4.

Double Bow Variety.

No. 7.

Obv. All the rosebuds are without stems; single bow to l. with ribbon at either side.

Rev. The three leaves opposite NK have very light stems, two of which are connected with that of the berry and the third disconnected from the branch. R. 4.

Obv. The stem of the lower l. bud is short, very distinct and connected with a short line extending to the rose, those of the thistles, the rose, the bud and rose leaves to r. are also distinct.

Short Stem Variety.

No. 13.

Obv. The stem of lower l. bud is very short and comes from a small leaf which is directly under the rose—the only instance. The letters are heavy and old style, the "&" is large.

Rev. Same as No. 8. R. 6.

The Large & Variety.

Most of these varieties are produced by retouched dies; Nos. 3, 4, 5, 7 and 13 having No. 7 as prototype while 6, 9, 10 and 11 have No. 6. The reverse of No. 6 is from an altogether different die.

These are generally styled the English bouquets on account of their having been made at Birmingham, and further from the error in spelling the word "Sous".

No. 14.

Obv. Similar. Large rose to l. and large maple leaf to r.

Rev. UN/SOU within a wreath of 5 large maple leaves. BANQUE DU PEUPLE, MONTREAL. Edge milled. R. 2.

This sou is met with on flans of different sizes and thicknesses.

This is the so called Rebellion token. A name applied to it from the fact that it bears on the reverse emblems of liberty: A star to the left and a Phrygian cap to the right. These symbols were introduced, it is believed, by an employee of the Bank who was a member of a society styled "Les Fils de la Liberté."

The aim of this Association was to secure the restoration of the equality of the two races, which the maladministration of some of the governors had disturbed.

No. 15.

Obv. Similar. One rose and a sprig of three small shamrocks to l.; 2 thistles to r., bow to l. with ribbon to r.

The dies of this sou were found in the cellar of a building on Notre Dame street, Montreal, occupied by Dr. Picault, a Druggist, who gave them to the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of Montreal. Specimens were struck by the Society on several occasions and in different metals.

It is doubtful if any originals of this sou are in existence, although Dr. Leronx claims to have discovered one in a collection of coppers which he bought in Ottawa, but it is most likely an early restrike. These early restrikes which were struck before the dies were turned down to receive a collar can be easily distinguished from those struck afterwards.
